

FOR AGENTS, EDITORS AND PRODUCERS

This is the pitch, not the brochure. The world's full secret stays hidden until you choose to reveal it.

01 · The hook

UNITARIA

If you had everything you ever wanted, would you still want the truth?

Sixteen-year-old Ro has spent her life wondering if there's something wrong with her. When the golden Compass glitches as it places her into a House at the Academy, the system that tells everyone else who they are has no answer for her. Determined to prove there is something inside her, Ro sets out to find her purpose — only to discover that the truth about the system could cost her the first place she's ever felt she belongs.

Unitaria is not “the future”. It’s our world, if our culture had fifty more years to evolve.

Not futuristic dystopia plus magic school plus reality show. A recognisable civilisation where all of those things have naturally evolved out of our culture.

The Academy

~~HOGWARTS~~

Oxford + Stanford + the Olympics +
TikTok + a royal institution + reality television + the world’s most prestigious university.

The Houses

~~HOGWARTS HOUSES~~

College sports teams + Greek life + fandom + varsity culture + social identity.

The Exhibition

~~A DYSTOPIAN DEATH TOURNAMENT~~

The Olympics + Eurovision + a World’s Fair
+ America’s Got Talent + university admissions + the Met Gala + reality TV.

The Director

~~A DICTATOR~~

A head of state who is also the world's biggest celebrity. Nobody thinks "God, I hate him." They think "OH MY GOD, THE DIRECTOR IS HERE."

The LiFE Band

~~A SURVEILLANCE ANKLE MONITOR~~

Apple Watch + the TikTok algorithm + Spotify Wrapped + Google Maps + LinkedIn + Duolingo + your entire digital identity. You wear it voluntarily. You like it. It tells you "You're doing great." Until one day: wait, who taught it what great means?

The Points

~~PRISON POINTS~~

Loyalty points + university applications + social credit + gamification + Uber ratings + achievement badges. People compete for them and show them off: "She's got 14,000 points, babe, obviously she's getting into Neuropa."

*Technology doesn't remove silliness.
It gives silliness a production budget.*

PICTURE IT

The Director isn't in a dark throne room. He's walking through the Academy in sunglasses, in something insanely expensive but somehow effortless. His band flashes, the cameras turn, someone screams "DIRECTOR!" He laughs and waves, the snow leopard mascot appears behind him, and the whole stadium erupts while millions watch at home. Somewhere beneath all of it is a truth that could destroy everything he's built.

That juxtaposition is the whole book.

FIRST, READERS WANT IT

THEN

I'd love to go to the Academy.

I want to know my house.

I want the band.

I want to meet the Director.

I want to be a Fellow.

Gradually: oh. Oh no. I actually understand why everyone stays.

So the world is never obviously sinister. The romance is romantic, the houses are genuinely exciting, the Exhibition is genuinely spectacular, and Unitaria is genuinely better than our world in some ways. When the cracks appear, the reader doesn't think "get out!" They think "but I don't want this world to disappear either."

The reader has to answer the same question as the characters, and stops watching Unitaria. They're implicated in it.

TRAILBLAZERS, THIS IS YOUR HOUSE

I'M AN ORION.

THE MASCOT

Ori, in an absurdly expensive arena suit, cannonballing onto the stage to music and pyrotechnics. He has his own social account, and nobody knows who's inside.

THE RIVALS

Lyra, bold against gentle. Polaris, doers against thinkers.

THE ALUMNI

Leaders, explorers, Restoration Corp commanders and Persovia's space pioneers.

THE KIT

Onyx black hoodies and jackets with flecks of gold, Ori plushies, belt-star pins.

THE LEGENDS

The Ascent, a race up the outside of the Academy's tower. The Climb, the bell rung at midnight by every new member.

POLARIS

WAYFINDERS · ARIS THE HUSKY

"Curious and wise, the ultimate sleuth, / Polaris is the true guiding star of the truth!"

AURORA

DAWNCHASERS · AURA THE FOX, WITH A LIGHT-UP TAIL

"Cunning like a fox, the spark and the flame, / Aurora's the wildfire nobody can tame!"

LYRA

SONGKEEPERS · LYR THE SWAN

"Loyal and relentless, united here we stand, / Lyra holds the world in the palm of their hands!"

ORION

TRAILBLAZERS · ORI THE SNOW
LEOPARD

"Bold, daring and fearless are we, / Orion pushes further than the eye can see!"

Every mascot is a full arena suit, with its own social account. Ori is the most famous of all.

2077. Fifty years after the Great Reconnecting.

Our world, fused into one landmass within living memory. Familiar, but not where it's supposed to be.

The Academy

The seat of government and the world's favourite television show share one name, so criticising one feels like attacking the other.

The Exhibition

The world's grand celebration of youth, born of the Director's love of the old World's Fairs and London's Great Exhibition of 1851. Eleven weeks, ten realms, one Grand Final, and every sixteen-year-old receives an offer.

The Realms

One landmass, three Continents, ten realms. Every culture on every doorstep.

The LiFE Band

The Points

Realignment and Rehoming

Your life on your wrist, with no screens. It projects your day, your tasks and your points, and it knows you.

Money is gone. Every right is free, and points reward doing good.

A fresh start somewhere that truly speaks to your soul. Rehoming is always a choice.

Everything works.

THE UTOPIA IS REAL.

No grey dystopia, no starving districts, no obvious tyrant. Every right is free:

A home

Good food

Clothing

Healthcare

Learning

Travel

A living wage in any career

THE CONTROL IS REAL TOO.

Control through comfort, not force. Every gift has a cost.

No money; points for doing good

Goodness becomes a performance and a leaderboard

The band: convenience, no screens

Constant surveillance, emotional nudging, and Recalibrate coming

The School of Life: find your passion

Your whole childhood is the exam, and the data decides your path

Rehoming is always a choice

Choice architecture: nudged by points, stigma and recommendations

Thanksmas gratitude and lanterns

Grateful people don't ask who caused it

A humble Director who offers to step down

A cult of devotion that keeps him there

The first story belongs to one girl. The universe doesn't.

Ro

HER NAME

Ro, short for Rosalia. She hates her full name, and nobody uses it except the Director, who always calls her Rosalia.

HER FAMILY

Nonna, who remembers the world before. A mum who knows the family safe exists and has no interest in what's inside. A younger brother. A dad who is mostly absent, because he works for the Director and is one of the Seven. Grandpapa Harry died recently.

HER PLACE IN THE SYSTEM

She tried every single job, not to get ahead but to find a passion, and without realising racked up a ridiculous number of points. The

WHO

Sixteen in 2077, born in 2061, after the world was remade. She lives on the crescents in Neuropa, the capital.

HER WOUND

Everyone around her seems so happy and content, except her. Parentified by an absent dad and a checked-out mum, she wonders whether she isn't just unhappy, but bad.

WHAT MAKES HER DIFFERENT

Her band was quietly altered by Harry, so it lags and can't read her excitement. The system that serves everyone their passion can't see hers. When she touches the golden Compass, it goes haywire girl with no passion is chosen as one of the forty Golden Prospects of the Grand Academy.

HER DANGER

Her readings are normal. Her curiosity is not.

for one second, live, in front of the world. It has never happened before.

THE ROMANCE

Team Spark or Team Anchor, both genuinely right for her. The Spark is Jase, her Orion nemesis, who meets the girl she is becoming and makes her feel alive. The Anchor is Sam, her oldest friend, who knew her before she had to prove herself and makes her feel known.

Book One

WHERE IT OPENS

The end of August 2076, just before her Academy year begins, with the reveal that her points are the fourth highest in the realm: the last of the four places, so the girl with no passion only just makes it in.

THE CLOCK

The Academy year, from September 2076 to the opening of the Exhibition season on 7 May 2077: the 50th Reconnection Day and her dad's fiftieth birthday. The World's Fair Grand Final is Book Two's big show.

THE THREAT, HIDDEN AS AN ADVERT

Recalibrate, a gentle mood-ring update, is announced in passing on 7 May. It quietly adds mapping and location sharing.

THE CLIMAX

The opening of the Exhibition, the most dazzling moment of the year, lands on top of grief: the life where she belongs, or the truth that proves why she never did.

THE STRUCTURE

Arrival, discovery, exploration and panic as she tries everything at the Academy, then the pressure of needing an innovation for the Exhibition, which leads her somewhere she was never meant to look.

THE FEELING ON THE LAST PAGE

Enraged, awakened, needing to know more, satisfied but shaken, and "it's ON."

THE ENDING

Nonna dies just before Reconnection Day. On the morning the Exhibition begins, while the world celebrates, Ro opens the family safe and reads the first line of the letter her grandparents left inside. The final scene pans to the Director on a balcony above the Academy, coffee in hand: "Let the show begin."

Open any part of the system.

Each one is what the world believes, and what is actually underneath.

The Academy

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

Where the world is governed and the Academy year is broadcast. One guaranteed year of education for every sixteen-year-old.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

The greatest show on Earth, designed by a man who understands branding better than anyone alive. Bread and circuses, with houses and merch.

The Houses

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

Polaris, Aurora, Lyra and Orion: the Academy's four rules for the whole world, chosen by the Compass.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

Teams to root for and a show nobody can stop watching. The institution decides your direction.

The Exhibition

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

The World's Fairs, brought back. "Only this time, there would be no nations. There would be children." A celebration of youth that finds every child's potential.

The LiFE Band

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

Convenience, no screens, a life assistant that knows you.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

A festival that hardened into a judgement in 2051, and a hunt for the young genius who can cure what no one can name.

Constant surveillance and emotional nudging. And Recalibrate is coming.

The Points

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

No money, no fines. Every right free; points for doing good.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

The basics are grey, and colour, flavour and wonder are paid upgrades. The economy parentifies children by design.

Realignment

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

Compassion, not prison: help for people who are unhappy with their circumstances.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

People who seem “not themselves” have a way of disappearing there, so everyone learns to smile.

Rehoming

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

A permanent fresh start in the realm that suits your soul. Always a choice.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

Nudged by points, stigma and recommendations. And nobody seems to come home.

The Director

WHAT EVERYONE KNOWS

The humble, beloved leader who keeps offering to step down.

WHAT'S UNDERNEATH

The keeper of a lie at the foundation of the world.

Seven eras, from the world before to the jubilee.

01

The world before

Our world. Nonna is born in 1994; the Director in 2006, heir to a global defence company.

02

7 MAY 2027

The event

The Great Reconnecting. The Shake, the Drift and the Settling fuse the continents into one land.

03

2027 TO 2032

The immediate aftermath

Around eighty per cent of the world is lost. Also: community, purpose, belonging and duty.

04

THE REBUILD YEARS

The rebuild

Armies become the Restoration Corp. The world refuses to go “back to normal”.

05

THE NEW ORDER

Realms, councils, Director

The public cries out for a leader like him. He offers to lead “while

07

2077

The present day

The golden jubilee. Fifty years reconnected.

But this is only the history the world remembers.

A catastrophic lie sits at the foundation of Unitaria. The Director knows it, the system is built partly to protect it, and her curiosity begins to pull at it.

BENEDICT REVERINGTON

The biggest celebrity on Earth, and the man everyone thinks they know.

REACTION ACCOUNT

He offered to resign again. The public said no.

01

Heir

Born 2006 into an old-money family whose defence company had its hands in everything. He despised the establishment behind his own name.

02

Survivor

Twenty-one at the Reconnecting. His father died in it.

03

The world's darling

He had been speaking out about the old system failing. When the dust settled, the public cried out for a leader like him.

04

05

06

Reformer

He abolished money, built the points, and created the Exhibition out of his love of the World's Fairs. He actually does a good job.

Director

Seventy-one in 2077. Humble, cheeky, sometimes too honest, and always ready to hand over the reins. The people won't let him.

The turn

To protect the lie, he starts choosing it over people. Bit by bit, until his own sister disappears.

Nonna

Born 1994. Left Italy for the UK at seven, where she met Harry, her lifelong best friend. A few months into a job as PA to the Director's father.

DURING

As it happened, the father asked her to back everything up. He died; his directive stayed with her, on an old hard drive. Soon after, she found out she was four months pregnant.

AFTER

Presumed dead, she took a new identity, deactivated her band and wore it as a ruse. A sweet old Nonna, hiding in plain sight in the Director's own city.

NOW

She nags about recipes and hums the kneading song: "palms up and down, round and round." The way she kneads dough is the way you unlock the family safe.

Her story is another doorway into the same secret.

Young Nonna and Harry's love story through the end of the world, told partly through her journal.

They were born with the new world, on 7
May 2027.

Orphaned as babies, they were raised by the Academy, part wards, part siblings, part inner circle.

Now they are fifty, living symbols at the centre of the jubilee.

And one of them is her father.

Every story reveals another piece of the same world.

The Director

The origin of his villain arc, as The Ballad of Songbirds and Snakes is for Snow.

Nonna and Harry

A love story through the end of the world, partly told through her journal.

The Seven

Seven lives, seven stories. Not all of them are loyal.

Isola

Every character's island journey is its own story, made for an anthology.

None of it is required to understand Book One. The universe rewards obsession; it never demands homework.

She is the perfect way in.

- ✦ Nonna remembers the world before. Her mum stays silent. She inherits a world she never saw being made.
- ✦ She lives inside the world's greatest success story, and she is the one who can't understand why everyone else seems so happy.
- ✦ In a world of manufactured contentment, her discontent is the alarm. What looks like dysfunction may be accurate perception.
- ✦ Her arc runs from "everyone is happy but me" to "nobody actually is."

WHERE IT SITS

The Hunger Games asks what happens when entertainment becomes violence. Unitaria asks what happens when entertainment becomes governance.

Black Mirror asks what technology reveals about us. Unitaria asks what happens when technology makes a genuinely better world, and therefore makes giving it up almost impossible.

THIS IS ONLY THE BEGINNING.

1994 · 2027 · 2077 · ?

The world existed before her. It will continue after her.
